WE DO NOT SUPPORT THE TRADE OF MARINE LIFE AS SOUVENIERS

The marine life you see here is either part of the essential structure, is intended to eventually be returned to the ocean or is on display due to reasons beyond our control.

As Green Fins members, we recognise that shells, coral and other marine life have vital roles to play in the marine ecosystem and we do not support the collection, sale or trade of marine life.

We strongly discourage our customers from buying or collecting any marine life as souvenirs or for use as decoration.
